The screenshot shows a website for cello lessons. At the top, there's a navigation bar with links for Home, Rates & Packages, Wedding Music, Lessons, Video, Publications, Frequently Asked Questions, and More. A CONTACT button is also in the top right. The main header features the text "CELLO LESSONS" and "Daily Video". Below this, a large image shows a man standing on a rocky beach with a cello, looking out at the ocean. A small dog is standing next to him. A pink call-to-action button in the center says "BEGUN YOUR CELLO JOURNEY". Below the image, the text reads "GO FROM BEGINNER CELLIST TO PLAYING BACH IN FOUR MONTHS". Underneath this, it says "Meet Your Teacher: Josh Nakazawa". To the left of the teacher's bio is a smaller image of the same man playing the cello while a small dog stands on its stand. The teacher's bio includes information about his education (Bachelors of Music from Manhattan School of Music, Southern Methodist University, and Juilliard) and his professional experience (being a concertmaster for the Florida Symphony Orchestra). It also mentions his passion for sharing music with students of all ages. Further down, it discusses his teaching philosophy, mentioning famous students like Cellist Yo-Yo Ma, Violinist Itzhak Perlman, and Pianist Lang Lang. It highlights his "cello system" which includes daily practice, video coaching, and a track record of results. A pink "ENROLL NOW" button is located at the bottom.
